This section of the report tells parents how many points their child has accumulated for good behaviour and attitude in lessons.

This section tells parents if their child is coming to class without the necessary equipment, with inappropriate behaviour or incomplete homework.

Expectations are very high for all our pupils and Green (Good) would reflect that pupils are meeting these high standards. Blue would represent outstanding effort/attitude whereas Red would suggest some concern in either attitude, behaviour, homework or effort.

ACADEMIC PROGRESS

SUBJECT	Class	Teacher	End of Year 9 Target	End of Year 11 Target	Effort	Likelihood of achieving target level by the end of the year
RE	9G1/Re	Mr Burbidge	6+	9	G	On track
English	9G/En1	Miss Consiglio	5	8	G	Likely to be above target

PE	9g/Pe1	Mr Marsden	6-	8	G	Likely to be below target
Technology	9g/Te5	Miss Chambers	6+	9	G	On track

The blue suggests that your child is working above expectations at the moment and if this continues they may well achieve above their end of year and end of Year 11 target grade.

The pink suggests that your child is working below expectations at the moment and if this continues they may well achieve lower than their end of year and end of Year 11 target grade.

This is the Number Grade we hope your child will have reached by the end of the Year if they are on track to achieve their potential.

This is the Number Grade which is statistically most likely that your child will achieve in this subject based on their KS2 data.

Average attendance at All Hallows is approximately 96% in all year groups. Behaviour incidents are uncommon with the majority of pupils remaining under 5 for the whole academic year. Effort is mainly judged to be green (Good) as most pupils strive to reach the high expectations the school expects of them.

See AQA Website for an explanation of the changed grading system post 2017.
