Newsletter – w/c 14th June

Dear Parents and Carers,

Back by popular demand!

Attached to this email you will find the menu for next week's meal choices in the canteen. A number of families have contacted us to ask if it would be possible to include the menu choices, and we have in the past, as this helps with planning lunches for the following week.

Reading Week

Next week we are running a whole school reading week. Parents and carers should be aware of this as activities may be skewed towards reading activities and reading homeworks. Please encourage your children to engage fully with this exciting and beneficial teaching and learning initiative. Pupils currently self-isolating should be aware of this as they may be set reading tasks at home rather than being invited into online lessons. Class teachers will make sure that they receive full instructions.

Covid-19 Update

I am sure that you have become aware over the past few weeks of the rising number of positive cases in our local area. Fortunately, we have relatively few in comparison. However, with four weeks left of the summer term, I have been reiterating all of the key messages about adhering to control measures to ensure that we reach July 16th as relatively unscathed as possible. We would greatly appreciate your support in encouraging mask wearing, social- distancing and engagement in our cleaning regime in school.

TA Support Roles

For any parents who may be interested, we have now advertised two TA roles in our SEND Department, to commence in September 2021. Please see the school website for further details.

Yours sincerely

Mr C Horrocks
